

Reba Fowler

Reba was born and raised in Chattanooga, TN, and migrated to Akron, Ohio where she completed High School and went on to graduate from the University of Akron with a Business Degree.

She worked for Bridgestone/Firestone for 45 years, retiring as Manager of the Benefits Department, managing 33 people plus 8 outside companies.

Raised Baptist but introduced to the Church of God on a first date and having married that son of a preacher, she became involved in many activities: Akron Council of Negro Women; Arlington COG Children's Ministry; Sunday school teacher; choir member; President of Arlington Senior Ministries; Secretary of Ohio Ministries Senior Board; former secretary of Northeast Ohio CWC; Member of Northeast Ohio District Executive Council; President of National Association Seniors of the COG-West Middlesex, PA.

Campground; Lifetime member of Christian Women's Connection and National Association of WCG; and a Workshop Leader for Several Senior topics. Having traveled to 11 countries and U.S. possessions, she loves reading non-fiction, watching Hallmark movies, crocheting, sewing, writing and meeting new people.

Reba and Russell were married 55 years before his death; have 7 adult children, 14 grandchildren, and 7 great grandchildren.

Praising God for blessing her to now be an Octogenarian, she looks forward to maybe being blessed to be a Centenarian one day.

Reba never meets a stranger.
